For Parents

The Bible is as relevant to our lives today as it was when it was written. In the Hebrew poetry of Psalm 19:7–11 we repeatedly read of the trustworthiness of God’s Word: it is perfect, sure, right, pure, true, and righteous. We are wise to follow Jesus’s example and accept God’s Word as authoritative to our daily lives. He quoted Scripture as historical fact, referencing some of the most-attacked accounts in the Bible, including creation (Matthew 19:4–5), Noah and the Flood (Matthew 24:37–39), Sodom and Gomorrah (Matthew 10:15, 11:23–24), Lot and his wife (Luke 17:28–32), and Jonah and the fish (Matthew 12:39–41).

Although others may urge us to “leave the Bible out of it” when discussing God, creation, absolute truth, morality, science, or the Bible itself, we cannot and must not. Christians stand on the Word of the all-knowing God—it is our foundation (Luke 6:47–49). God’s Word is the trustworthy starting point from which we interpret life—we use it as if looking through biblical glasses to correct our distorted view, enabling us to see and understand the world.

OutWord For Family Discussion

If your friend is confused about the truth and says, “I don’t understand why there are so many different ideas out there. Some say God is in control; others say He isn’t. Some say God created; others say He didn’t. I just don’t get it!” What will you tell him?

People have different worldviews. Some people have a biblical worldview. They wear biblical glasses and try to see everything through what God’s Word says. Others look to what man says, even if it doesn’t line up with what the Bible says. We need to use biblical glasses, since God’s Word is true and God does not lie.

inWord For Family Study

“One generation shall praise your works to another and shall declare your mighty acts” (Psalm 145:4). Commit to praising God’s glorious works to your children. Plan specific family time to hide His Word in your hearts through study and memorization.
