

LOADING UP THE ARK

We've got seven days before the Flood starts. We'll be working from sunup to sundown loading all the food and securing the animals, and tomorrow will be just as busy. Thanks to Japheth, we've got plenty of food, and Ham has examined the Ark from stern to bow. This is one incredible ship.

Still, I'm just a little scared. Okay, I'm a lot scared. I've never been through a flood before. No one has—not like this one is supposed to be.

But I also know God will take care of us. He always has. He always will.

YOUR TURN TO DRAW...

Now it's your turn! First, read Genesis 7-8. Then, in the space below, draw your own picture for Shem's notebook of the Ark floating on the water during the storm.
