

Doodle, Do!

Ever catch yourself doodling little drawings in the middle of class? Turns out, doodling helps your brain take a break from focusing too hard, allowing you to keep listening without totally tuning out. And of course, doodling is fun! Try it out by turning these simple lines into some cute critters.

Several American presidents, such as Theodore Roosevelt, Ronald Reagan, and John F. Kennedy, enjoyed doodling during meetings.