DEBATE OVER CREATIONISM:

Answers In Genesis President Weighs In On Republican Presidential Debate

WHAT: With the debate over creation and evolution raised again last night in the Republican presidential candidates' debate, Answers in Genesis President Ken Ham is available to discuss the controversy and give his seasoned perspective. Recent national polling, including surveys by Gallup and ABC News, shows a majority of Americans believe in the biblical account of creation. Ham can speak to that, why the debate is important and how a biblical position (or lack thereof) on the creation story affects people's worldview.

WHO: Ken Ham, president of Answers in Genesis and the new Creation Museum.

WHEN: This week via phone or in person on an appointment basis.

DETAILS: Answers in Genesis is the world's largest apologetics, or Bible-defending, ministry. The ministry's $27 million dollar Creation Museum opened to the public on Memorial Day.

Additional Information: For immediate inquiries, please call Dan Parker or Giles Hudson at A. Larry Ross Communications, (972) 267-1111.

Please visit The Creation Museum's online newsroom, located at www.CreationMuseumNews.com, for full media information or to submit an interview request.
