

man's voice, held back the madness of the prophet.

17 These are wells without water, clouds driven with a tempest, for whom the blackness of darkness is reserved forever.

18 For when they speak great swelling words of vanity, they are escaping from those who are slaves to corruption. For by whom anyone has been overcome, even to this one he has been enslaved.

20 For if [they] have escaped the pollutions of the world through the full knowledge of the Lord and Savior Jesus Christ, and are again entangled, they have been overcome by these [their] last things are worse

3 First, knowing this, that there will come in [the] last days scoffers walking according to their own lusts,

4 and saying, Where is the promise of His coming? For from which [time the] fathers fell asleep, all things continue as [they were] from the beginning of creation.

For this is hidden from them [by their] willing it, that the heavens were of old, and the earth out of the water, and through water, being the word of God, the world that then was, being flooded by water, perished.

7 But the present heavens and the earth being kept in store by the same word, are being kept for fire until the day of judgment and destruction of ungodly men.

8 But, beloved, let not this one thing be hidden [from you], that one day

Fossilization is a process that can take anything from a few hours to millions of years. ... The amount of time that it takes for a bone to become completely permineralized is highly variable. If the groundwater is heavily laden with minerals in solution, the process can happen rapidly.

PETRIFIED HAM

Bones do not have to be “turned into stone” to be fossils, and usually most of the original bone is still present in a dinosaur fossil.

Philip Currie, 101 Questions About Dinosaurs, 1996, page 11.

A thin slice of T. rex bone glowed amber beneath the lens of my microscope. Blood vessel channels snaked through a bone matrix, and tiny chambers known as lacunae, which house bone-forming cells, appeared as small ovals. ... Then a colleague took one look at them and shouted, “You’ve got red blood cells. You’ve got red blood cells!”

Mary Schweitzer and Tracy Staedter, “The Real Jurassic Park,” Earth, June, 1997, pages 55–57.

One of the things that we have is a part of the hip bone or pelvis. Now this specimen actually looks like it had come from an animal that looks like it died two or three hundred years ago. All dry, chalky, this sort of thing. Doesn't actually mean it died two or three hundred years ago. In Montana, I've seen dinosaur bones that look like they've come from animals that died two or three hundred years ago, and I know very well that they died much longer than that.

Apollo Diamond Inc. in Massachusetts and Florida-based Gemesis Corp. each have produced a new type of lab-made diamond that is difficult, though not impossible, to distinguish from natural diamonds. ...

Natural diamonds are mined from deep in the earth. They are formed of carbon that has been exposed to immense heat and pressure over billions of years. Synthetics have the same physical properties, but they are created in a laboratory.

The new manmade diamonds from Apollo Diamond are created in a few days by a machine in an industrial park near Boston through a process called chemical vapor deposition. ...

Though they do not come from the earth, these synthetic diamonds' properties are the same as those of diamonds that come from mines, said Apollo Chairman Robert Linares.

"They are real," said Linares. "They meet every measure of being diamond. From the aesthetic point of view, from the scientific point of view, they are diamonds and so therefore they have all the properties of diamond."

... Jerry Trout (cave specialist with the Forest Service) says that through photomonitoring, he has watched a stalactite grow several inches in a matter of days.

From 1924 to 1988, there was a visitor's sign above the entrance to Carlsbad Caverns that said Carlsbad was at least 260 million years old. In 1988, the sign was changed to read 7 to 10 million years old. Then, for a little while, the sign read that it was 2 million years old. Now the sign is gone.
