

TYRANNOSAURUS REX

The mighty Tyrannosaurus Rex was probably the most terrible killing machine that ever walked the earth. His name means "King of tyrant lizards." Tyranno means "tyrant", saurus means "lizard", and Rex means "King." A tall man standing next to this king of lizards would just reach to his knee. His hind feet were equipped with enormous claws. The eye sockets of his huge head was so large that a man could put his head through it. His teeth were like six-inch sharp daggers. His jaw was so big that he could swallow a man whole. It is calculated that this monster ate more than 40 tons of meat a year.

Draw a man standing next to T.R.'s knee

Draw the missing claws on T.R.'s hind feet

Draw a man's head
in the eye socket

Perhaps you would like to color the pictures after you have added the missing parts. See page 33 of TMD for help.